Forty-six years ago last January the first plowing was done in Iron county, on the north side of Center Creek, by the late President George A. Smith, and Joseph Millett, now residing at Springdale, Utah, drove the team that done the plowing. The ground was not frozen and it was dusty where camp was.

John Schmutz died at New Harmony, Utah, March 27th, 1897, in full faith of the Gospel of Christ. He was born July 25, 1818; was baptized in 1874, at Chaux-de-fond, Switzerland and emigrated the same year, arriving at St. George, Utah, July 17, 1874. He leaves a posterity of 9 children, 35 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild. Com.

Mr. William F. Gibson, who has been with us about four months, will leave per team for Milford next Tuesday morning, expecting to make Springville, Utah, his landing place for the present. This climate has so far mastered his Asthma that he is looking and feeling pretty well. In our opinion he is a fine gentleman and has our best wishes and we hope he will continue in good health from now on. Should he desire to return at any time he will be made welcome.
